As per the Standing orders in vogue on the subject, as enunciated in new S.O.Nos.1112 and 1113 (i), the above named staff member (u/s) is individually and collectively responsible for the tampering and, loss or destruction of records.

he cannot resort to commit said offence and it is beyond imagination to presume that Office subordinate simply because he has access to the record room resort to commit mis-conduct. He has further stated that it is true that the office sub-ordinate takes thumb impression of the executants and claimant in the presence of concerned Joint Sub-Registrar and the T.I. register is always in the lock and custody of Joint Sub-Registrar-I and in the absence of Joint Sub-Registrar-I, the Joint Sub-Registrar-II or in-charge Joint Sub Registrar will have full control over the care of T.I. register. He has therefore, stated that an office subordinate can not resort to tamper the evidence in T.I. register. He has also stated that the learned enquiry officer and Deputy Inspector General, Registration & Stamps, Kakinada only held the charge against him as proved only by application of standing orders S.O.1112 and 1113(i). These standing orders are equally applicable to all the remaining charged officers against whom the enquiry officer held charges as not proved and also to all the personnel who worked in the Registrar Office (Original Branch), Rajahmundry from 1974 on wards. He has also stated that the conduct of inquiry is against the principles of natural justice and therefore, requested the Government to consider his representation to drop further proceedings against him.

9. Government after careful examination of the matter and keeping in view the findings of the Inquiring Authority observed that the duties of an Office Subordinate in a registration office are to obtain the impressions of the parties on the documents presented for registration and to bring the records from the record room when required for conducting search and preparing certified copies of the documents applied for by the parties likewise, the records will be returned to the record keeper after done with. It is further observed that no Record Issue Register was maintained by the Record Keeper and therefore observed that the charged officer had access to the old records.
